LAUGHING GAS

ADMINISTERED BY DR. MURRAY, Bridgewater, Pa., in extracting teeth. I have added to my many other facilities for the successful prosecution of my profession, this invaluable pain-killing agent. All branches of Dentistry performed in the best and most modern style. All work done as cheaply, and fifty per cent. better than at any other Steam Dental Establishment in the State. jmy9'67:tf

LAUGHING GAS!

COME ALL YE THAT HAVE BEEN SUFFERING the untold miseries of toothache, and dread of extraction, and you will find that Dr. Chandler & Co. are ready to relieve you by the use of the great pain destroyer—LAUGHING GAS—and make their extraction a source of pleasure, rather than of pain.

All dental operations performed in the best possible manner, and at reasonable terms as by any good Dentist in the county.

HOWE'S SEWING MACHINES

THE UNDERSIGNED, HAVING RETIRED FROM the tailoring business, in Bridgewater, Pa., will in the future, devote his whole time and attention to the sale of Howe's Unrivalled Sewing Machines. His apartments is in the building formerly occupied by himself and Mr. Miller, as a Tailor Shop. These Machines range in price from $65 to 85, and will be delivered in good order to persons purchasing them. An experienced person will accompany each machine sold, and each purchaser will be thoroughly instructed in its use.

He will also keep sewing machine needles, machine oil, silk, thread and all articles needed in sewing, and dispose of them at reasonable rates. Thankful to the public for favors heretofore received, he solicits, in his new business, a continuance of the same.

Penmanship in Common Schools.

The remark is very frequently made, and with some truth, that pupils are not taught to write in our schools of the present day.—Perhaps no other branch of learning is so much neglected or so poorly taught. Why is this? Formerly the ability to write a good hand was considered a prerequisite, on the part of those who aspired to teach school; but now-a-days teachers claim to excel in this very useful accomplishment. They would not like to be found deficient in their knowledge of other common school branches, yet they are free to admit that Penmanship is something they know but little about, either in theory or practice. Consequently writing is entirely neglected or very poorly taught. It is just as destructive for children to leave school with the ability to write a good, practical, business hand for them to have a knowledge of Arithmetic, Geography, or Grammar. Their happiness, their usefulness, and their success in life depend very much upon it. What thousands of letters are daily passing through the mails; carrying information from, and giving pleasure to friends and relatives living in distant parts of the country. But the pleasure of corresponding with friends, is not for those who cannot write. By Practical Penmanship, accounts are kept, books, newspapers and magazines are written, all business transactions are recorded, the history of past ages is handed down to us, and the Bible and other good books are preserved for our use. These considerations demand more attention to the subject of penmanship than is usually given. Penmanship is a Science as well as an Art; hence any person may learn the Theory if not the Practice, and no one should take charge of a school who cannot teach children how to become good writers. The School Law makes it the duty of directors to "Decide upon a series of school books, in the different branches to be taught during the school year; which books and no other, shall be used in the school district during said period." Would it not be well for directors to choose a Text-Book on Penmanship in their respective districts, and require it to be used? This would reduce the teaching [illegible] and the knowledge acquired by pupils during one term of school, would not be thrown away the next, but would be retained as a foundation for further improvement. The above suggestion is respectfully submitted to the school directors of Beaver county, trusting the subject will receive that attention which its importance demands.

J. WHITHAM.

Mathematical.

Sold a piece of cloth containing 1000 Flemish ells for 850 guineas, and gained upon every yard one-eighth of the prime cost of an English ell; what did the whole piece stand me in?

Which is most advantageous, a term of 15 years in an estate of $100 per annum or the reversion of such an estate forever, after the expiration of the said 15 years, computing at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, compound interest.

PUNCTUATION.—Every lady in the land has twenty nails upon each hand; five and twenty on hands and feet; and this is true without deceit.

The above items are from Supt. Whitham.

A correspondent at Beaver Falls requests a solution of the following problem, which, he says, was an actual transaction:

A and B had threshing done together: A had 30½ bushels of wheat and 19½ of oats, and B 19 bushels of wheat. The cost of threshing was $7½, and the oats cost 2½ cents per bushel more than the wheat; what was each one's share of the cost?

Solutions.

No. 1 of March 18th.

If 4 of A's steps equal 3 of B's, 1 of A's equal three-fourth of B's; and if A takes 6 steps as often as B takes 4, while A takes 1 B takes one-sixth of 4, equal four-sixths or two-third steps. If then 1 of A's steps equal three-fourths of B's, and A takes 1 step while B takes two-thirds of a step, A gains on B every time he (A) takes 1 step the difference between three-fourth and two-thirds, equal 1 twelfth of 1 of B's steps; and since in taking 1 step he gains one-twelfth of 1 step, in taking 96 steps he gains 96 times one-twelfth, equal ninety-six twelfths, or 8 of B's steps. Therefore B was 8 of his own steps ahead when the race began.

Without fractions we solve it thus: The least common multiple of 4 and 6 is 24; then if 4 of A's steps equal 3 of B's, 24 of A's equal 18 of B's, and if A takes 6 steps as often as B takes 4, A takes 24 as often as B takes 16, from which it is evident that every time A takes 24 steps, he gains on B the difference between 18 and 16 of B's steps, equal 2. If then in taking 24, A gains 2 steps in taking 12 he gains 1 step; and if in taking 12 he gains 1, in taking 96 steps he will gain as many steps as 12 are contained times in 96 equal 8. Therefore B was 8 of his own steps ahead of A when the race began.—Editor.

The State Guard, speaking of the late national delegate election by the Crawford county system, says: The result of this election in Lancaster county commends itself to the serious attention of the masses of the Republican party everywhere. Every man's vote in this election was cast as an expression of his preference for candidates whom he desired to see nominated. No fairer or more manly system for nominating candidates than that just adopted by the Republicans of Lancaster county could possibly be established.

THE THREE BRIDES.

A THRILLING STORY.

"Do you see," said the sexton, "those three hillocks younder, side by side? Those sleep three brides whose history I am about to relate. Look there, sir; on younder hill you may observe a little desolate house with a straggling fence in front, and a few stunted apple trees on the ascent behind it. It is sadly out of repair now, and the garden is all overgrown with weeds and brambles, and the whole place has a desolate appearance. If the winds were high now you might hear the crazy shutters flapping against the sides, and the winds tearing the gray shingles off the roof. Many years ago there lived in that house an old man and his son, who cultivated the few acres of arable ground that belong to it.

"The father was a self-taught man, deeply versed in the mysteries of science, and as he could tell the name of every flower that blossomed in the wood or grew in the garden, and used to sit up late at nights at his books, or reading the mystic story of the stary heavens, men thought he was crazed or bewitched, and avoided him as the ignorant ever shun the gifted and enlightened. A few there were, and among others, the minister, the lawyer, and physician of the place, who showed a willingness to afford him countenance, but they soon dropped his acquaintance, for they found the old man somewhat reserved and morose, and moreover their vanity was wounded on discovering the extent of his knowledge.

"To the ministers he would quote the fathers and the Scriptures in the original tongue, and showed himself well armed with the weapons of polemic controversy. He astonished the lawyer with his profound acquaintance with jurisprudence, and the physician was surprised at the extent of his medical knowledge. So all of them deserted him, and the minister, from whom he differed in some trifling point of doctrine, spoke very slightingly of him, and by and by looked on the self-educated farmer with eyes of aversion.—He instructed his son in all his arts: the languages, literature, history, philosophy, science, were unfolded one by one to the enthusiastic soul of the solitary.

"Years rolled away and the old man died. He died when a storm convulsed the face of nature; when the wind howled round the sheltered dwelling, and the lightning played above the roof: and though he went to Heaven in faith and purity, the vulgar thought and said that the Evil One had claimed his own in the elements. I cannot paint to you the grief of the son at this bereavement.—He was for a time as one distracted. The minister came and muttered a few cold and hollow phrases in the ear, and a few neighbors, impelled by curiosity to see the interior of the old man's dwelling, came to the funeral. With a proud and lofty look the son stood above the dust and the dead, in the midst of the band of hypocritical mourners, with a pang at his heart, but serenity upon his brow. He thanked his friends for their kindness, acknowledged their courtesy, and then strode away from the grave to bury his grief in the privacy of the deserted dwelling.

"He found at last the solitude of the mansion almost insupportable, and he paced the ebony floor from morning till night, in all the agony of woe and desolation, vainly importuning Heaven for relief. It came to him first in the guise of poetic inspiration. He wrote with wonderful ease and power. Page after page came from his prolific pen, almost without an effort; and there was a time when he dreamed (vain fool) of immortality.—Some of his productions came before the world. They were praised and circulated, and inquiries set on foot in the hope of discovering the author. He, wrapped in the veil of impenetrable obscurity, listened to the voice of applause, more delicious because it was obtained by stealth. From the obscurity of yonder lone mansion, and from this region, to send lays which astonished the world, was indeed a triumph to the visionary bard.

"His thirst for fame had been gratified, and he now began to yearn for the companionship of some sweet being of the other sex, to share with him the laurels he had won—and to whisper consolation in his ear in moments of despondency—and to supply the void which the death of his father had occasioned. He would picture to himself the felicity of a refined intercourse with a highly intellectual and beautiful woman, and as he had chosen for his motto, "whatever has been done may still be done," he did not despair of success.

"In this village lived three sisters, all beautiful and accomplished. Their names were Mary, Adelaide and Madeline. I am far enough past the age of enthusiasm, but never can I forget the beauty of these young girls. Mary was the youngest, and a fairer haired, more laughing damsel never danced upon the green. Adelaide, who was a few years older, was dark haired and pensive; but of the three, Madeline, the eldest, possessed the most fire, spirit, cultivation and intellectuality. Their father, a man of taste and education, and being somewhat above vulgar prejudices, permitted the visits of the hero of my story. Still he did not altogether encourage the affection which he found springing up between Mary and the poet. When, however, he found that her affections were engaged, he did not withhold his consent from their marriage, and the recluse bore to his solitary mansion the young bride of his affections. Oh, sir, the house assumed a new appearance within and without. Roses bloomed in the garden, jessamines peeped through the lattices, and the field about it smiled with the effects of careful cultivation. Lights were seen in the little parlour in the evening; and many a time would the passenger pause by the garden gate, to listen to strains of the sweetest music, breathed by choral music voices from the cottage. If the mysterious student and his wife were neglected by the neighbors what cared they? Their endearing and mutual affection made their home a little paradise. But death came to Eden. Mary suddenly fell sick; and after a few hours illness, died in the arms of her husband and her sister Madeline. This was the student's second heavy affliction.

"Days, months rolled on, and the only solace of the bereaved was to sit with the sisters of the deceased and talk of the lost one. Adelaide at length he offered his widowed heart. The bridal was not one of revelry and mirth. Yet they lived happily, and the rose again blossomed in their garden. But it seemed as if a fatality pursued this singular man. When the rose withered, and the leaf fell in the mellow autumn of the year, Adelaide, too, sickened and died, like her youngest sister, in the arms of her husband and Madeline.

"Perhaps you will think it strange, young man, that after all, the wretched survivor stood again at the altar. Madeline! I well remember her. She was a beauty in the true sense of the word. She might have sat upon a throne and the most loyal subject, the proudest peer, would have sworn the blood in her veins decended from a hundred kings. She loved the widower for his power and his fame, and she wedded him. They were married in that church—it was on a summer afternoon—I recollect it well. During the ceremony the blackest cloud I ever saw overspread the heavens, and the moment the third bride pronounced her vow a clap of thunder shook the building to its centre. All the females shrieked but the bride herself made the response, with a steady voice, and her eye glistened with a wild fire as she gazed upon her bridegroom. When arrived at his house she sunk upon the threshold; but this was the timidity of a maiden. When they were alone he clasped her hand—it was cold as ice! He looked into her face—'Madeline,' said he, 'what means this? your cheek is as pale as your wedding gown!' The bride uttered a frantic shriek: 'My wedding gown!' exclaimed she; 'no, no—this is my sister's shroud! the hour of confession has arrived. It is God that impels me to speak. To win you I lost my own soul. Yes, yes—I am a murderess!' She smiled upon me in the joyous affection of her young heart—but I gave her the fatal drug. Adelaide twined her white arms about my neck, but I administered the poison! 'Take me to your arms, I have lost my soul for you, and mine you must be!'

"And then," continued he, in a hollow voice, "at that moment came the thunder and the flash, and the guilty woman fell dead on the floor!" The countenance of the narrator expressed all he felt.

"And the bridegroom?" asked I "the husband of the destroyer and the victim—what became of him?"

"He stands before you!" was the thrilling answer.

Positively His Last Appearance.

The following announcement is printed by special request:

Special Announcement.—Verbatim Reporters and all other Improper Characters will be Rigidly Excluded.

A Beautiful Allegory.

Mr. Crittenden was engaged in defending a man who had been indicted for a capital offence. After an elaborate and powerful defense, he closed his effort by the follow striking and beautiful allegory:

"When God in His eternal counsel conceived the thought of man's creation, he called to Him the three ministers who wait constantly on his throne—Justice, Truth and Mercy—and thus addressed them:

"Shall we make Man?" Then said Justice, "O, God make him not, for he will trample upon thy laws." Truth made answer, also, "O, God, make him not, for he will pollute thy sanctuaries." But Mercy, dropping upon her knees, and looking up thro' her tears exclaimed: "O, God, make him—I will watch over him with my care through all the dark paths he may have to tread." Then God made man, and said to him: "O man, thou art the child of mercy—go deal with thy brother."

The jury, when he had finished were in tears, and against evidence, and what must have been their own convictions, brought in a verdict of "not guilty."

"BRICK" POMEROY ABANDONS ANDREW JOHNSON.—It must indeed add to the loneliness of the President to know that, along with the New York World, he is also abandoned by Brick Pomeroy. In the La Crosse Democrat of the 27th he says:

Now, about all this we are perfectly cool.—It does not disturb our equanimity in the least. We are not surprised at what has happened, and don't care a continental —— for it all.—We expected nothing better of Andy Johnson, and are therefore in no way disappointed. We did did not look for any good from him, we had no confidence in him, we placed no dependence on him, we despised him.—Now the Mongrels may work their will on him, for aught that we care. He is one of them, has played the usurper and tyrant himself, and let him bear some of his own "curses come home to roost."

Rumpites "drive on your cart!"

"This is not our funeral!"

THE Republicans of Bellefontain and vicinity had some fun at the expense of the Cops last week. A telegram was received from the East that Andrew Johnson had called for 400,000 men—to fight Congress. Up to that time numerous sanguinary individuals of Democratic proclivities had been spoiling for a fight, but on the recipt of this dispatch their courage oozed out at their finger ends, and only one man could be found in the place who had pluck enough to say he was willing to go. They excused themselves with the remark that "Johnson was a Republican President, and Republicans might do his fighting." Of the amount of Democratic infirmity which this dispatch caused to be developed, the Republican remarks as follows:

"One of the druggists in town informs us that he sold 75 trusses, all to Democrats within twenty-four hours after the receipt of the dispatch, and could have sold twice as many, if he had had them.

A Touching Appeal.

During a visit of some of the dignitaries of New Hamshire, last summer, to the Isle of Shoals, which had suffered so severely by fire, they went into the school house, and after listening to the recitations, a collection was proposed for the benefit of the sufferers, which resulted in only about fifty dollars being given. A prominent member of the state government, in order to induce a more generous contribution, essayed a speech. "Gentlemen," said he, "what a beautiful sight this is. Here we find, away out upon this waste of waters, isolated and cut off as it were from the world, a church, a school house, and a pretty school teacher; why, up in Hillsborough county, near where I live, we have neither, thank God!"

What the gentleman meant was not so clear, but the result was. The hinge that hollowed shook the walletes of the company to the surface, and the greenbacks came down liberally.

THE Legislature has finally agreed to adjourn on the 14 of April.

THE impeachment trial has come to a pause. The evidence for the prosecution was closed on last Friday, and the defence begins on next Thursday. So far the impeachment managers are satisfied with the result.

THADDEUS STEVENS, in a late letter to a friend in Lancaster, has taken ground in favor of Grant for President and Wade for Vice President.

THE Republicans of Yonkers, New York, achieved a very decisive triumph at the election held in that place on Tuesday of last week. The vote was a very full one, each party getting out their "last man." The Republicans carried the town by a majority of 218. The Democratic majority last fall was 297.

"LITTLE RHODY" held her election on last Wednesday. Both parties did their "level best," and Gen. Burnside, the Republican candidate for Governor, turns up with a majority of nearly five thousand for Governor. This is a gain of nearly two hundred on last year's majority. Rhode Island thus votes for equal and exact justice to all men, for the impeachment of Andy Johnson, and for U. S. Grant for President of the United States.

THE personal and political friends of Generals Grant and Butler will learn with pleasure that the quarrel for a long time existing between these distinguished men, has been talked over by the parties interested, and amicably adjusted. Better friends, it is said, are not now to be found about the National Capitol, than the two persons here referred to.

THE Harrisburg Telegraph suggests the Hon. Thos. Williams, the Representative in Congress from the Twenty-third District in this State, for United States Attorney General, in case Johnson is deposed and Mr. Wade fills his place. Mr. Williams may be a suitable person for that position, but unfortunately for him, very few persons outside of his immediate District seem to be aware of it.

MINNESOTA has made some important changes in her criminal code. She has practically abolished capital punishment, by the enactment of a law declaring that no criminal shall suffer the penalty of death without the unanimous recommendation of the jury. She has decided that in all criminal cases the accused shall be allowed to testify in his own behalf. And further, she has provided that an amendment to the Constitution shall be submitted to the people next November, abolishing the grand jury system.

A NEW YORK correspondent says: About four months ago a few young men tried the experiment of starting a new daily paper in Brooklyn. They were good writers, and the paper was spicy and readable, but after a struggling existence of three months it suddenly expired from want of patronage. The proprietors have just gone into bankruptcy, and it is discovered that their debts for a three months experiment in journalism amounted to over $30,000. A history of the struggles and losses of men who have failed in the newspaper business during the last twenty years would be interesting reading.

THE New York Tribune of last Friday in a double-headed editorial makes this announcement: "We have assurances from Washington that Gen. Grant finds it not inconsistent with his duty as a soldier to announce it as his opinion that the only hope for the peace of the country is the success of the pending Impeachment trial. He feels that national security demands the removal of the President. If the trial should fail, the people can only expect more assumptions of power, and a more determined resistance of law.—When the General of our Armies entertains this conviction there is no room for doubt as to the duty of the Senate. The loyal nation demands the President's removal."

A STIRRING fight occurred a few days ago in our State Legislature on the appropriation to complete the military history of the various Pennsylvania regiments. The Republicans supported the measure, while the Democrats opposed it, on the ground, as Mr. Searight said, that they did not want a military history of Pennsylvania during the war.—They would gladly, he remarked, wipe out all record of it, and forget that it had ever taken place. The appropriation however was made. The soldiers of this State should hold Senator Searight and his fellow Democrats in remembrance for this thrust for services rendered at the most trying time in the history of our Government.

"For six years the Democracy has felt humiliated and ashamed of itself, because forced into a wrong position. It has been a hypocrite and a liar through the war. The war is Black Republican property. What is General Sherman but a murderer, an invader of private rights and a cotton thief? If the Democrats are mean enough to put in nomination any pup for President who ever wore shoulder-straps during the Abolition crusade, we hope he will be defeated and we will do all in our power to accomplish that end."

MEEK, the Representative from Centre county in the State Legislature, is also the editor of the Bellefonte Watchman. He must be an unmitigated traitor, for in his paper of a few days ago appeared an editorial, (and he is said to have written it himself) in which it was stated that "civil liberty received such a shock when Gen. Lee surrendered to Gen. Grant at Appomattox Court House as it had never received before." A man entertaining sentiments like this should not be allowed to occupy a seat in the Pennsylvania Legislature, and the sooner that body expels him the more creditable will it appear in the sight of all who love treason and think well of their country.

THE Senatorial election case in the Twenty-first District in this State, in which Shugart (Dem.) was the sitting member and Robison (Rep) the contestant, was decided on the 3d inst, in favor of the latter. The evidence taken in this case is very voluminous, and we learn that a portion, if not all of it will be published in pamphlet form. Robison's right to the seat is clearly established. The testimony also goes to show beyond all cavil that it was through fraud and forged naturalization papers that the cops carried Pennsylvania last October, and that the chairman of the Democratic State committee, if not the instigator of these crimes, was at least privy to them, and gave them his sanction.

AS WE the other day intimated was probably the case, the ordering of Gen. Hancock to the district of the Atlantic, is generally regarded as a part of a scheme of Mr. Johnson with which his last official days will be signalized. The selection of Gen. Gordon Granger as commander at Washington, in the place of Gen. Emory, appears to have been decided on though not announced. As to Granger the Herald correspondent says: "There is good reason to believe Gen. Granger is designed for some special mission, the time for which has not arrived, and his prolonged presence here, together with his frequent interviews at the White House, would seem to strengthen such belief. Gen. Hancock, however, has not yet ordered any changes in departmental commanders and has not intimated that any such changes have been contemplated."—Pitts. Com.

A Good Day's Work.

The House of Representatives did a noble day's work yesterday, by passing the bill commonly styled the REGISTRY BILL. The provisions of the same will hereafter obviate the use of coffee to color naturalization papers. In short, the days of fraudulent voters are numbered.

When the bill was taken up yesterday, the Democrats expressed a determination that it should not pass. Every possible motion to retard its passage was made, and the yeas and nays called on every question. The friends of the measure submitted quietly during the morning session, but in the afternoon the previous question was called which prevented all useless debate. When the Democrats discovered that the bill was bound to pass, a large number left their seats, hoping that thereby the House would be without a quorum; and the number of members was at one time reduced to fifty one—exactly a quorum, some ten Republican members being absent, having paired off with Democrats. The Republicans labored faithfully; and during the absence of the Democrats, accomplished, what they would not have done if the Democrats had remained in the hall, the suspension of the rules by a two thirds vote, to pass the bill finally. When this vote was had the Democrats discovered their mistake, but too late to avoid it, and the bill passed finally, with some excellent amendments offered by Mr. Thorn, refering to Philadelphia.

The Senate will, at once, concur in them and the bill will no doubt pass the Senate finally, to day.—Har. Telegraph. April 3rd.

A BAND of desperadoes calling themselves the Kuk Lux Klan, and composed of ex-soldiers of the rebel army, was organized some time ago in the Southern States. The mission of its members for a while seemed to be the keeping of the freed blacks from voting the Union ticket by means of threats of violence to person and property. The organization seems to be extending to other fields, and taking upon itself additional labors. Instead of confining its operations to frightening negroes away from the polls, it now hints its purpose to play the part with Wade should he become President of the United States that Booth played with President Lincoln in 1865. On last Saturday morning the President pro tempore of the Senate (Mr. Wade) received the following letter through the Post office, at Washington D. C. The headlines of the letter were printed:

HEADQUARTERS K. K. K., WASHINGTON D. C., April 3, 1868.—GENERAL ORDER—The C. V. P. K. K. K. congratulates the President pro tempore upon the timely assassination of Andrew Johnson's predecessor, and the prospective removal of the present obstruction. By direction of the C. V. P. K. K. K. Official S. C. K. K. K.

Those who feel disposed to treat this threat as of no significance, will bear in mind, that no person believed one week before Mr Lincoln's life was taken, that there existed a human being so reckless and wicked as to undertake the desperate act. Yet a Booth was found then. Other Booths may be found now.

IN Virginia in 1851 a woman was indicted, tried, and sentenced to two years imprisonment for teaching a slave to read. The indictment read as follows:

"And the said ——, not having the fear of God before her eyes, but moved and instigated thereto by the devil, did teach a certain negro woman to read the Bible, to the great displeasure of Almighty God, etc."

This was a Democratic indictment, under a Democratic law, in a Democratic State.

THE majority of the Republican State ticket, says the Pittsburgh Commercial, in Arkansas is about thirty thousand, and the Legislature is Republican by a decisive majority.—This State was always reliable for the Democracy. It had just about as much to gain by the rebellion as a man with everything comfortable around him has in rushing headlong into a consuming fire. But it went into the rebellion nevertheless—that is, the Democrats carried it in, and we see it to-day under free suffrage, Republican in every fibre. Arkansas possesses many attrations of soil and climate, but the greatest of all her attractions and advantages is her free constitution.

THE Connecticut election has, as we anticipated it would, gone against the Republican candidates. English (Dem.) is reported to have been re-elected Governor by a majority of from 1500 to 2,000. The colonization of a large body of New York "roughs" to Connecticut is said to have "done the business" for the Republicans.

We have also met with a reverse in Cincinnati. Three tickets were in the field in that city—Republican, Democratic, and Working-men's. The Democrats of course won in a triangular fight of this character. They however, but barely won the election of their ticket.

The Republicans, have however, gained largely in other localities in Ohio. This reverse in Cincinnati is therefore clearly attributable to local troubles, and is without any political significance whatever.

Gov. Seymour makes a Speech—He Opposes Pendleton's Repudiation Scheme.

We commend to the Democrats of this county the following extract from a speech made by Governor Seymour, lately delivered before the New York Democratic State convention at Albany.—Seymour is a Democrat' as most of our readers well know, and could obtain the Democratic nomination for President this year, by merely saying he desired it. It will be seen that Pendleton's repudiation scheme recieves no mercy at his hands:

"It is a mistake to suppose that the bonds are mostly held by capitalist. Large sums belonging to children and widows under the order of the courts of the action of trustees, have been invested in Government bond. The vast amounts held by Life and Fire Insurance Companies and savings banks, are, in fact' held in trust for, and are the reliance of the great body of active business and laboring men or woman, or of widows and orphans. The savings banks of this State, are the depositories of the poor, or of persons of limited means, hold about $60,000,000 of Government bonds. The whole amount held in the State of New York, in the various forms of trust, will not fall below $200,000,000. If we look into other States we shall see that only a small share of these bonds are held by men known as capitalists. But they belong in fact, if not in form, to the business, the active and laboring members of society. The destruction of these securities would make a wide spread ruin and distress which would reach into every workshop and every home however humble.

* * * Whatever our views may be, the payment of this debt will fall upon the future. Do what we may, a generation that will come after us, will decide its mode, of payment and without regard to anything that we may say. The depressed industry of our land, its suffering labor, demands that the load of taxation be lightened. There is a perfect accord in the democratic ranks as to the policy, and need of honesty, and economy; but there is some difference of opinion as to the construction of the contract with the public creditor. Some hold that it is right, and that it is due to the tax payors, that we should save what we can by paying the principle of the debt in currency; but they underrate the force of their own arguments. It is a mistake to suppose that the intercsts of the bondholder and tax-payers are antagonistic. The fact is overlooked that in order to make any saving by giving the bondholder a debased and worthless paper we would bring upon ourselves disaster and dishoner which will cost a hundred-fold what we can save. It means that we are to give to the laborer for his toil a base currency; it means that the honor of our country shall be stained; it means that our business shall be kept in uncertainty and confusion; it means that the laboring man shall suffer by the increased cost of the comforts of life; it means that the taxpayers shall be burdened by a Government proved to be corrupt and imbecile by this very depreciation of its money. We can't afford to speculate upon the Nation's honor at so fearful a cost.

The Climax in the Fraud Which Enabled the Democracy to Carry the Twenty-First Senatorial District.

It will be remembered by our readers that in the testimony taken in the contested election case now being tried before a Committee of the State Senate, a witness named O'Mara swore that certain fraudulent naturalization papers had been used—that those who voted on these papers had used a certain style of tickets, and that as he knew of these facts he had been paid $600 by a Catholic Priest of Clearfield county to leave the State. This man's testimony was coroborated by the tickets afterwards found in the ballot-box, but the main facts, that he had been paid $500 to leave the State that he might not appear and testify to the fraud, were uncorroborated. In the meantime the Priest could not be found, and the character of the witness was impeached by the evidence of other witnesses brought forward by the Democracy to swear they would not believe him on his oath. But on Tuesday the climax of this transaction of Democratic fraud was reached by the appearance of the Priest in question before the Committee, who swore he paid $500 to the man O'Mara to leave the State and not appear and testify to the frauds which he knew had been committed by the Democracy of a certain election district in Clearfield county, in voting men on forged naturilization papers. Here is the fraud plainly and solidly established. It is traced to the city of Philadelphia, where men had been engaged to prepare these forged naturalization papers; it is traced to the Democratic State Central Committee; it is traced to Clearfield county; it is brought out in the evidence of the hired agent of the Democratic leaders of Pennsylvania, and it is corroborated by the Catholic Priest who paid the money, $500, to induce the absence of the witness to prove the fact. A plainer case of villainy was never made out. It fixes beyond all doubt the fraud by which the Democracy of Pennsylvania carry elections, while it leaves the Democratic State Central Committee in the attitude of an organization conducted with a purpose to induce fraud at the ballot-box and defeat the ends of justice where the right is to be vindicated.

—Is it not due to the Catholic church that the Bishop, under whose control is the Priest who figures in this disgraceful business, to at once bring that functionary to an account, as he has unquestionably compromised his calling as a servant of God, and lowered the dignity of the sect of which he is so mean a member? No sect can afford to recognize men as its representatives such as the Clearfield county priest who, by lending himself to further the foul corruptions of the Democratic leaders deserves to lose the confidence of the people he professes to instruct in honesty and honor. —Har. State Guard.

THE New Orleans Tribune gives the following capital contrast of the two Moseses, of whom Andrew is the latest specimen:

"The true Moses was the meekest of men; our Moses is the most mulish. The true Moses was a man of prayer; our Moses is a man of oaths. The true Moses was slow of speech, and had his brother for a mouth-piece; our Moses unfortunately speaks for himself. The true Moses was a great law giver; our Moses is a notorious law-breaker. The true Moses forsook Egypt, not fearing the wrath of its king; our Moses has gone down to Egypt for help. The true Moses turned his back on the foe of his country, our Moses has turned his back on his friends and the friends of his country. The true Moses "endured" to the end; our Moses has betrayed and abandoned the cause to which he swore allegiance. The true Moses led an oppressed people out of bondage; our Moses promised to do it, but left them to their foes. The true Moses labored to save the people from the bite of fiery serpents; our Moses has sought to have all the people bitten by them—i. e., Copperheads. When the true Moses died, the children of Israel wept for him 30 days; when our Moses shall leave the White House for Tennessee, all the people will say amen. The man who reeled into office ought to be ruled out.

ROOFING SLATE!

TWIN CITY SLATE MINING AND MANUFACTURING COMPANY.

J. S. NEWMYER, President. S. M. ANDERSON, Secretary. J. N. SHALLENBERGER, Superintendent.

OFFICE,

No. 43 Seventh Street, Pittsburg, Pa.

IT is believed that the time has come in the progress of American architecture, when the question will no longer be asked, "What shall we use for roofing?" but, "WHERE CAN WE OBTAIN THE BEST SLATE." Older countries have long since established the fact, that no material is so well adapted, and so durable, as Slate for covering buildings. Two obstacles to its general use in this country have existed heretofore: first, the transition character of society, which is necessarily opposed to permanence in architecture, and second, the great abundance and low price of lumber. The first impediment is rapidly yielding to more and riper ideas on the subject of building, and the other must soon give away to the scarcity and advancing price of lumber suitable for roofing purposes.

It is superior to every other in appearance.
It is easily put on.
It saves insurance.
It is fire proof.
It is imperishable.

The Twin City Slate Company's Mines are in Northampton County, Penn'a. The Slate is a beautiful dark blue, unchangeable in color, splits in perfectly smooth plates of any size required, and hardens steadily by exposure to the atmosphere. No Slate in the United States is superior to it, in all the qualities essential to a

Easter Sunday.—Our young readers will hear it said that Easter comes this year on the 12th of April, next Sunday, and they had better be making preparations for that important occasion. We have thought but the eggs will have to suffer terribly on the day.

A New Borough.—Baden, in this county, has been incorporated as a borough. The citizens of that place petitioned the Legislature some time ago to pass an act of incorporation for them. The request was granted, and the Governor, a few days ago, approved the act. The new borough will be called Baden as heretofore.

Attention is directed to the law card of Messrs. Cunningham & Kuhn, in another column. They are two intelligent gentlemen, and will take pleasure serving the public in their professional capacity.—Their office is in the room formerly occupied by the late Judge Cunningham.

In Pledgy.—Our readers will please bear with us a little while. We have more advertisements in hand just now than we should have, but the people deserve it where to advertise, and we have no heart to turn them away. If this condition of things should no longer, we shall be obliged to buy a power-press, enlarge our paper, and extend our operations greatly.

A Telling Speech.—A Bridgewater cop, a few evenings ago was descanting eloquently against negro suffrage, when a "Rad" stepped up, and retorted thus:

You talk against negro suffrage! Why, you loaf with negroes, smoke with negroes, eat with negroes, drink with negroes and play cards with them. After this you can't be your equal, you have the impudence of the devil to say that you can't let them vote with you."

The telling shot Mr. cop subsided, and he was applauded heartily by the crowd that had in the meantime gathered around.

The Grain Crop.—"During our term of Court we were visited with quite a number of our country acquaintances in relation to the winter grain, and with but one exception, they represented the wheat and rye looking healthy, and the prospect of a fine crop for next year. The deep snow of the winter protected it from freezing, but kept the ground in a condition to cause the grain to grow the whole season, if, therefore, no mishap befalls the future, we look for flour to "tumble" in the price of a few months. So mote it be.

A Run Off.—A spirited mare belonging to Hart Branch, jr., of Sharon, this county, ran away on Monday of last week. She was hitched to a one horse spring wagon, and started on the "run" from "Hell Hill," north of Beaver. She came "pitching and kicking," and after "swinging around the circle" a few times, she was brought to a halt in front of the store. The wagon was pretty badly smashed up, a portion of it was left outside of the limits of the borough before her entry into town.

A Hint to Parents.—A great many small boys seem to make it convenient to be at the Railroad depot at this place on the arrival and departure of trains. Many of them catch hold of and jump to the cars while they are in motion. They have been in the habit of doing the for some time past, and the wonder is that some of them have not already been killed or injured in consequence of their temerity. Mr. Agent requests us to say to the parents of these boys to make an effort to keep them away from the depot, when not on business. By heeding this timely hint a life or a limb may be saved. On Saturdays, in particular, they gather there in large bodies.

Lo! The Poor Musicians. Passing down Market street last Wednesday, we noticed a specimen of the Italian street musician, with a large dilapidated hurdy strapped on his back, and almost bent double to the ground. Any persons "investing" a small amount of change are entitled to hear all the horrible sounds practiced, which we believe was but one tune, and that one "Lanigan's Ball" has long since been worn out by constant usage. To the Italian race we are indebted for much of our street music, a source of annoyance under any circumstances. The inventor of this tune is an excellent test for any person of those who wish to cultivate that virtue of patience—to listen to "Lanigan's Ball" "thumped" on a hurdy. For our own part, we hope we may never be called upon to listen to such sounds again.

The Grove Murder Trial.—Mr. Milo Grove, residing in Brighton township, this county, and father of the young man who was shot some time ago on board the steamer Arcadia, lying at Cairo, by a man named Sweney, received a telegram last week, to the effect that Court would convene in that city, on the 6th of the month (last Monday). Mr. G. has secured the services of an able lawyer in that city, and all the necessary preparations were made for the trial.

Mr. Grove, we believe, has abandoned the idea of attending the trial of Sweney, as his presence would not be required, and by so doing he would be incurring useless expense.

An Organ "Galloping" into Favor.—A most remarkable piece of musical mechanism, in the shape of an organ, representing the vox humana, (human voice), is creeping, or rather galloping, into public favor. It is known as the "Burdett Organ," whose tones, no not tones merely or abstractly considered as tones, but whose utterances are made to excite almost every emotion of the human heart, whether of joy or of sorrow, at the will of the performer, and cause the listener to wonder how it lives without eating and drinking, like human beings. Those enterprising gentlemen, H. Kleber & Bro., 122 Wood street, Pittsburgh, have it for sale, and would be pleased to exhibit to those who desire to witness its powers, the wonderful capacity it possesses to inspire our minds, stir our hearts, and mingle its tender and touching sympathies with those of the human breast. It is said that one musician, on visiting this amazing specimen of human invention, for the second time, so far forgot himself that he actually addressed it—"Good morning, Mr. Organ!"—Eastern exchange paper. [apr 1-6t.

Complimentary.—The Pittsburgh Commercial of the 31st contains this flattering notice of the new minister in the M. E. Church of this place:

The Rev. James Hollingshead has severed his connection with the Union Methodist Episcopal Church, Fifth ward, Allegheny, (formerly Manchester). The farewell services took place on Sabbath evening. The Church was crowded in every part, even the aisles being filled with benches and chairs. The services were opened by the choir, under the leadership of the efficient chorister, Prof. Wagsta", singing the beautiful and appropriate anthem "Shall we know each other there." Mr. Hollingshead took for his text: "Finally, brethren farewell," and delivered a powerful, interesting and highly instructive sermon. His remarks showed that he leaves his congregation with reluctancy, and the reception of the discourse by the congregation indicated that he bids adieu beloved by all. He has worshiped with this congregation for two years and has been most successful. During his ministry the congregation have built the large and beautiful edifice they now occupy, and nearly doubled in membership. By appointment of the Methodist Episcopal Conference held lately at Greensburg, the Rev. Mr Hollingshead goes to Beaver, Pa., and Rev. J. J. McIlyar takes his place in Allegheny. We hope he may find as many friends in his new appointment as he leaves behind.

Grant Club at New Brighton and Vicinity.—At a meeting of the Grant Club of New Brighton and vicinity, held at Capt. Boyle' rooms, in New Brighton on the evening of March 31, for the purpose of perfecting an organization, the following officers were elected:

PRESIDENT, ... Dr. David Stanton.
Vice Presidents—1st Ward, Geo. S. Barker, C. K. Chamberlain.
Vice Presidents—2d Ward, John C. Boyle, J. S. Winans.
Vice Presidents—3d Ward, Chas. Merrick, John Pugh.
Vice Presidents—Fallston, E. G. Evans, Henry Lloyd.
Vice Presidents—Beaver Falls, Chamberlin White, H. C. Patterson.
SECRETARIES, ... E. A. Noble.
Assistant Secretary, John F. Price.
Corresponding Secretary, G. L. Eberhart.
Treasurer, R. E. Hoops.

The Committee on Resolutions reported the following, which were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, we are about entering upon another Presidential campaign, Resolved,

1st. That we recognize but two parties engaged in the canvass, viz: The Republican party based upon the eternal principles of humanity, justice and equal rights, and the so called and misnamed Democratic party, the characteristic principles of which appear to be their innate craving for the pelf and plunder of office; their devoted reverence for the "Lost cause," their undying hatred of the Negro race and their new dogma of the repudiation of the national debt.

2d. That as we believe in the language of Andrew Johnson, that Traitors should be punished the Senate of the United States should lose no time in deposing the man who has shown himself so base a traitor to his country and the principles upon which he was elected Vice President.

3d. That the fearless, energetic and conscientious discharge of duty manifested by Edwin M. Stanton gives evidence of a disinterested patriotism rarely shown in the annals of history.

4th. That as Gen. U. S. Grant was the great spirit in bringing the rebellion to a close he should continue to act as the leader in the work of reconstruction and he is therefore our choice for the next Presidency.

5th. That for Vice President our choice would be a man of sterling integrity and undoubted patriotism, whose election would furnish to the assassin no inducement for the murder of the President.

E. A. NOBLE, Secretary.

IN MEMORIAM.

MRS. H. M. R. LARWILL, DIED MARCH 12, 1868.

Gone to that strange wierd land,
The silent city where all tears shall cease;
Led kindly, gently by Death's loving hand
In glad release,
To the green highlands and still waves where dwells
Eternal peace.

Gone where the wise and great
And loved of old are thy companions now;
In God's bright mea low-lands forevermore,
Learning strange wisdom with untroubled brow;
The weary, throbbing, suffering, restless heart
Is quiet now.

Fearless wert thou, and bold;
Didst thou shrink backward from the River's roar?
Oh, sister, were the billows icy cold?
And was it long till thou hadst gained the shore?
Vain questioning, dear dumb lips, ye'll answer me,
Ah, nevermore.

Gone! every wandering wind,
Mournfully sighing round the homestead eaves,
Whispereth thou wilt come again no more;
And softly sobbing rain of spring-time grieves,
And moist with dewy freshness, morn awakes
The budding leaves.

Earth's weary ones may throng,
And sorrowfully tread life's wine-press deep,
Yet never while the countless years roll on
Time eyes shall weep;
Beautiful eyes, before me ye have won
Death's blessed sleep.

LYDIA M. RENO, Rochester, Pa.

A Great Change.—Women in the South, who, six years ago, were not compelled to lace their own shoes, are now forced to do washing and cooking for entire families.

Committed Suicide.—Martin Murray, a day laborer, on the C. & P. Railroad, and a resident of Industry, this county, committed suicide on last Monday one week ago, by shooting himself through the bowels with a pistol. He was upwards of fifty years of age, and leaves a wife and three children. He was laboring under temporary insanity when he committed the rash act.

Another Run Off.—A horse belonging to Mr. John Border, of this place, ran away on last Monday evening, while passing down Seminary street. He was hitched to a one horse wagon at the time, and was driven by Mr. B. After going a short distance, the wagon broke, Mr. Border was "pulled out" and the animal took the nearest route to his stable. Very little damage done.

A Freak of nature occurred in our neighborhood a day or two since which is not seen more than once in a lifetime. A farmer in the vicinity of town lately bought a mare which he understood would foal in June. A few days since she was delivered of a colt AND A MULE! Of course, all three died after that.—This is a case that happens not more than once in a hundred years.—Lawrence Journal.

Free Masonry.—From the report of the proceedings of the Masonic Grand-Lodge of Pennsylvania, we learn that the order now numbers 215 lodges, with 22,105 members in this State, and that the Grand Lodge numbers 2,000 members. During the past ten years, the Masonic fraternity in Pennsylvania has doubled its strength, and is now in a most flourishing condition, the Grand Master in office being the Hon. Richard Vaux, who is said to be one of the most capable and efficient directors of its affairs that the Masonic body in this State has had for many years. The assets of the Grand Lodge are valued at $601,012, and the new temple, about to be constructed on Broad street, is to be built at an estimated cost of $750,000.

"More than thirteen" Democrats sneaked to Canada, "to one" killed in the Union army.

"More than thirteen" Democrats rejoiced at a rebel victory "to one" who regretted a Union defeat.

"More than thirteen" Democrats coerced and aided deserters from the Union army "to one" who delivered them over to the lawful authorities.

"More than thirteen," Democrats approved of the starvation of Union Prisoners "to one" who denounced it.

"More than thirteen" Democrats rejoiced at the assassination of President Lincoln "to one" who mourned it.

"More than thirteen" Democrats applaud President Johnson as a patriot "to one" who denounces him as an unprincipled renegade.

"More than thirteen" Democrats would to-day vote for Jeff Davis for President of the United States "to one" who would vote for Gen. Grant.—Penn Republican.

A Drunkard Struck Dumb.—The Augusta (Ga.) Banner says: A gentleman who resides in Wilkes county, and was returning home from Augusta, recently, entirely lost the power of speech soon after the train left Augusta. We heard him attempting to talk soon after he got on the train, and in a few minutes he could not articulate a word. He was in the possession of all other facilities, but his lips were literally sealed. His distress was very touching and he wrote replies to questions addressed him by the passengers, and tried to bear up under the terrible visitation. He said that he had been on a spree. He hoped it was only a species of delirium and would wear off with rest and sleep. He said he had once been partially deprived of his speech before, for a short time, in Virginia. His case attracted much attention among the passengers, several of whom knew him and were satisfied that he was not using deception.—His case was a most forcible illustration of the summary and terrible manner in which nature sometimes punishes a violation of her laws.

Description of the Popular Loans.—Jay T. Brady & Co., Bankers, corner of Fourth and Wood Sts., Pittsburgh, Pa., have placed in our hands the following circular, which shows the character of all loans made to the Government during and since the war. As a reference it will be valuable, and should be preserved by all who choose to see it:

DESCRIPTION OF THE POPULAR LOANS.

6s of 1881.—Payable in 1881, bearing six per cent. (gold) interest, payable January 1st and July 1st, in each year.

5-20s of 1869.—Redeemable at the option of the Government, after April 30, 1867, and payable May 1st, 1882. Interest, six per cent. (gold), payable May 1st and November 1st.

5-20s of 1864.—Redeemable after October 31st, 1869. Payable November 1st, 1884. Interest, six per cent. (gold), payable May 1st and November 1st.

5-20s of 1865.—(November Issue.) Redeemable after October 31st, 1870, and payable November 1st, 1885. Interest, six per cent. (gold), payable May 1st and November 1st.

5-20s of 1865. (July issue known as "Consols."—Redeemable after July 1st, 1870, and payable July 1st, 1885. Interest, six per cent. (gold), payable January 1st and July 1st. These Bonds are issued in conversions of the 1st series 7-30s.

10-40s.—Redeemable after February 28th, 1874, and payable March 1st, 1904. Interest, five per cent. (gold), payable March 1st and September 1st, except on $50 and $100 Coupon Bonds, interest of which is payable annually, March 1st.

2d Series 7-30s.—Payable June 15, 1883 or then convertible at the holder's option, into 5-20 Bonds. Interest, 7 3-10 per cent. (Currency) payable June 15th and December 15th.

3d Series 7-30s.—Payable July 15, 1868, or then convertible at the holder's option into 5-20 Bonds. Interest, 7 3-10 per cent. (currency), payable January 15th and July 15th. Upon this series the Government reserves the right to pay six per cent. (gold), instead of 7 3-10 per cent. currency.

The Gold bearing Bonds are issued either Coupon or Registered, and in buying and selling, the price includes the interest.

Registered Bonds are issued in $50, $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000, $10,000. Interest upon Registered Bonds may be made payable at Washington, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Boston, Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Charleston, Buffalo, San Francisco, and Pittsburgh.

In buying and selling the 7-30s, the interest goes to the seller. Any Coupon Bonds will be exchanged by the Government for Registered Bonds of the same issue.

5-20s, 1867.—July issue, redeemable after July 1st, 1872, and payable July 1st, 1887. Interest, six per cent. (gold), payable January 1st and July 1st. These Bonds are issued in conversion of the 7 3-10 Bonds.

30 year six per cent. Currency Bonds issued by Government to Pacific R. R., payable 30 years after date. Six per cent. (currency.)

The Free Railroad Law.—The following reasons were filed with the clerk of the House when the vote on the Free Railroad Conference Committee report was taken:

We voted for the report of the committee for the reason, 1. It has been clearly established by the Senate refusing to increase its committee of conference, as requested by the House, that this is the best compromise we can make with the Senate; and 2. Believing the bill as reported to be better than no bill—or, in other words, if it does no good, it will do no harm; and 3. It is one step in advance of former legislation; and as all concede we can do no better, we vote "aye."

(Signed,) E. W. DAVIS,
THOS. NICHOLSON.

The bill here referred to was vetoed by the Governor, returned to the Legislature, amended, passed by both Houses, then approved by Governor Geary, and is now a law. Of the amended bill the Pittsburgh Commercial says:

"The Free Railroad bill having been amended to obviate the objections of the Governor, and it having been passed by both branches of the Legislature, the question is disposed of for the present session. Though not what was desired the bill is a great step forward."

Straws!—They show the way of the wind. The following proves something at least, if true. It indicates that the wind is blowing, if not the direction of the wind. The Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Evening Chronicle says:

A few days ago, a lady teacher in the city here, who has among her pupils two little daughters of Mrs. Stover, who, it will be remembered, is a daughter of President Johnson, requested each of her pupils to ascertain at home whether they would continue in her school the next quarter, which commences again within a couple of weeks. The little Misses Stover returned the next day and promptly told the lady that they were not coming to school any more. When questioned as to the reason, with child-like simplicity, said:

"Grandpa says we are going to move back to Tennessee in April!"

Yesterday, on the river bank, in the upper portion of Tionesta, was seen a white man lying on the ground, drunk and helpless and attended and taken care of by a sober black man. Now! suppose that some "mongrel," some "Rump Congressman" should attempt to make these men equal in respectability, how much would the negro gain by being made equal to the white man? how much would the white man lose by being made equal to the negro?—Tionesta (Pa.) Bee.

March Snows.—It is said that if the snows of March cling to the boughs of trees, there will be a plentiful supply of fruit. If this be true, we ought to rejoice in the prospect for the coming season, for the snow of March did cling to the boughs.

OBITUARY.

FISHER—March 20th, 1868, after a short but painful illness, Miss Mahala Fisher, in the 18th year of her age.

We have again seen the young and beautiful laid in the silent tomb. And our hearts were filled with sorrow, while we looked on the face of the dead, and remembered how recently she had been the light of our social circle, and her happy voice had been heard among us. But that voice is now hushed in death and the form upon which we looked with admiration, is laid in the grave. And while these sad thoughts fill our hearts with sorrow, we cannot but realize the truth, that "there is an end of all earthly perfection." We cannot but mourn when called to part with one so lovely. But our sorrow for her is made lighter while we think of her calm and peaceful death. We have before stood by the bedside of the dying; but we never before witnessed a scene so impressive, nor such manifestations of the Savior's presence. When the hour of death was fast approaching, her spirit seemed lifted above her sorrow and suffering here; and her face, beautiful, even in death, was radiant with smiles that were not of earth, as she sung the Redeemer's praise and spoke of his love. Angels seemed hovering around her, presenting bright visions of the world to come; and waiting to guide her through the valley of the shadow of death, which seemed but a bright pathway leading to Heaven, "Where sorrow and pain never enter, and the weary are at rest."

Alas, her life on earth is o'er,
And we will see her here no more,
But how could we wish to retain
Her spirit from its endless gain?

God who called her in his love,
To his heavenly home above;
Kindly released her from all pain,
And could we wish her to remain?

Ah no, the voice of love replies,
And bids us look beyond the skies;
Where Angels guard with watchful care,
The lov'd who dwell with Jesus there. H.

TRIMMINGS AND FANCY GOODS.—The attention of our readers is directed to the extensive advertisement of Messrs. Joseph Horne & Co., Nos. 77 & 79 Market street, Pittsburgh, which appears in to-day's paper. Messrs. H. & Co. have one of the largest stores in Pittsburgh, and always keep on hand a large and excellent assortment of goods, but their Spring Stock this season is larger and more varied than ever before. This is fully set forth in their advertisement, and parties who design making purchases in their line will do well to read the card for themselves.

THE WHOLESALE DRY GOODS AND NOTION HOUSE OF MESSRS. CARR, M'CANDLESS & Co.

We would direct attention this morning to the announcement of the Dry Goods Jobbing House of Messrs. Carr, M'Candless & Co., No. 94 Wood street, Pittsburgh. This firm now offers to merchants and dealers one of the largest and most complete stocks of imported and domestic goods ever brought to this market, and which they are prepared to dispose of at low figures. Their stock embraces all the novelties and plain goods, foreign and domestic, and included in the assortment are many styles not to be found elsewhere. Merchants and dealers, and all who buy to sell again should visit the firm—examine their goods and prices.

Any person wishing yellow Nansemond Sweet Potato plants, will leave their orders with G Hamilton, Esq., at the Revenue office, by the 20th of April. None will be sent for but those engaged.

HEALTH GIVING WINE.

Some time since Mr. A. Speer of Passaic, N. J., presented us with a bottle of his Port Grape Wine. In our turn we presented it to a friend whose was in feeble health. After giving the wine a few trials, our friend assures us he derived marked benefit from its use. We find that many invalids in this city are using Speer's Port Grape Wine with the same beneficial results.

Druggists keep it. [2t.

ROCHESTER FOUNDRY,

ANDERSON, ARBUCKLE & CO.

MANUFACTURERS OF MACHINE CASTINGS' Railway Track and Car Castings, Agricultural Implements, Engine and all other Castings made at a first class Foundry. Also, Stoves, Grate Fronts, Grate Bars, Liners Sash Weights, Hollow-Ware, Kettles, Iron Fence, and all other Castings called for, on short notice and of the very best metal.

Also, J. J. Anderson's justly celebrated New Cook Stove for Coal and Wood, which took the

First Premium

At the State Fair recently held at Pittsbugh. This Stove combines many new and important principles, which place it far in advance of all others now in use. Some of the merits claimed for it by the Inventor, are Heavy Metal, Well Proportioned, Beauty of Style and Finish, Ease of Draft, Easily Kept Clean, Requires but little Fuel, and the BEST BAKER EXTANT.

All orders thankfully received and promptly filled.

We Call Attention to the Following Statements:

While living in the East I used several of the most Celebrated Cooking Stoves made in that part of the country, and on my arrival here, I was recommended to purchase the Crystal Palace Stove, (also Invented by Mr. Anderson) as being the best. I did so, and used it with good satisfaction. When I saw Mr. Anderson's new Stove, I was attracted by its neat appearance, and on examining its Oven and interior arrangements, found it possessed many advantages over all I had seen. I purchased, and have one now in use. We consider it superior to any we have ever used. It is all the inventor claims, and we think, all that could be desired in a Cooking Stove.

CAPT. GILBERT PENDLETON.

ROCHESTER, Nov. 21st.

JOHN H. WHEELER.

J. WOODRUFF.

Having one of Mr. Anderson's new Stoves in use, we are fully satisfied with its good qualities in all respects.

JOSEPH IRVIN AND WIFE.

ROCHESTER, Nov. 25th.

Having kept house for a long time, and used a great number of Cook Stoves of different patterns and styles, I consider J. J. Anderson's new Stove, in point of economy in fuel, ready cooking and baking for its size, superior to any we have used, and cheerfully recommend it, believing it will render entire satisfaction.

CHAS. LUKENS.

We have one of Mr. J. J. Anderson's new Stoves, manufactured at the Rochester Foundry, and having given it a fair trial, we find it comes fully up to all that has been claimed for it. It heats very rapidly, takes but little fuel, and is a most excellent baker. Mr. Anderson may congratulate himself on having achieved quite a triumph in the line of Cooking Stoves.

Very respectfully,

Beaver, Nov. 23d, 1867. J. S. BRACKEN.

ALSO

EXCELLENT FOR LADIES AND WEAKLY PERSONS USE.

VINEYARDS, NEW JERSEY.

Speer's Port Grape Wine,

FOUR YEARS OLD.

This justly celebrated native Wine is made from the juice of the Oporto Grape, raised in this country. Its invaluable are unsurpassed by any other native Wine. Being the pure juice of the grape, produced under Mr. Speer's personal supervision, its purity and genuineness are guaranteed. The youngest child may partake of its generous qualities; and the weakest invalid may use it to advantage. It is particularly beneficial to the aged and debilitated, and suited to the various ailments that afflict the weaker sex. It is in every respect,

TONIC AND STRENGTHENING PROPERTIES

A WINE TO BE RELIED ON.

Invalids use Speer's Port Grape Wine.
Females use Speer's Port Grape Wine.
Weakly persons find a benefit by its use.
Speer's Wines in Hospitals are preferred to other Wines.
Sold by Druggists and Grocers.

Ruby Cooking Stove Nos. 7, 8 & 9.

THIS STOVE TOOK THE FIRST PREMIUM AT the State Fair as a Coal Cooking Stove, and also at the late County Fair. We use no scrap iron in their manufacture, but make them exclusively of No. 1 Pig Metal, and warrant them in every respect.

The Ruby has the largest oven in the market and consumes but little fuel in baking, owing to to our improved Grate.

GRATE FRONTS AND FENDERS.

We are largely engaged in the manufacture of Grate Fronts and Fenders, which we manufacture in an oven common, second quality and fine finish. This enamel retains its lustre for a long time, will not burn off, and makes a much superior finish to that of Coal Tar.

SUMMER PIECES.

We are also making Sheet Iron Summer Pieces (for which we have applied for a patent) pressed up in a Hydraulic press. They are much lighter than cast Iron, and much cheaper.

HEATING STOVES.

We claim the heaviest heating Stove in the market for the size, and use the best Stock in their construction.

Our patterns are not yet complete, but it is our intention to keep a general assortment in our line.

We also took the Premium at the County Fair for Castings generally, and we have entered in to the business with the determination to use the best of Pig Metal and make good work.

We respectfully request a share of the public patronage, and would be pleased to see those wanting anything in our line at our woks.
